REDS SLAUGHTER NAZIS IN FIERCE DRIVE

Meandering Along the Main Stem By WASH FAYETTE

I was halted on the street a few days ago and asked the question: "What percent of the women of today bake their own bread?"

That was a poser, so a few steps farther along the street I met a well known farmer's wife and asked her the question.

The answer came instantly: "Less than five percent of them, and only one-half of one percent know how to bake honest-to-goodness bread that is fit to eat."

A lot of you folks remember when mother used to turn out big batches of bread, the aroma of which could be detected before one stepped inside the house, and how it was done to a turn, with light brown crust that "melted in your mouth." But those days have gone forever in most homes.

It has not been so many years since bread baking was an art, and practically every housekeeper took pride in her ability to bake good bread.

That was in the days before there were so many bakeries to supply bread to every food market including the wayside stores in the country.

Then folks generally found it a great labor saver and that they could obtain better bread than most of them were baking at home.

Now if a woman can bake good biscuits, she has accomplished something, and most of them would not think of taking on the baking of bread regularly for the family.

Incidentally there is bread and more bread, and not all of it is top-notch.

Don't you like to watch trains go by? I knew you did. Whether they are fast moving passenger trains, streamlined or otherwise, or slow moving freights, I always get a thrill out of watching them roar by amid a cloud of smoke and dust.

A short time ago I heard a Diesel engine whistle for a crossing near Greenfield and expected to see a stream-lined passenger train whirl by, but instead the Diesel was pulling a freight train. It was a long train, with plenty of tank cars included and boy, O boy! how it was traveling. That's what is coming in the near future.

One day while driving west of Kingston I counted 175 empty box cars on the N. & W. Railroad, being moved southward. They were pulled by two locomotives and the train was well over a mile in length. It was the longest train I have ever seen and I halted until it approached, passed, and until it was disappearing in the distance.

MILLIONS HOMELESS IN BOMBED GERMANY

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Swiss dispatches gave these figures today on Allied bombings of Germany:

There are now 8,000,000 bomb victims homeless in Germany. 152,000 persons have been killed in Hamburg bombings and 42,000 in attacks on Kassel; 3,000 were killed and 12,000 made homeless by the RAF attack Wednesday night on Duesseldorf.

How the figures were obtained was not explained in the dispatches to Swedish newspapers.

CAROLS TO BE RECORDED AND SENT YANKS IN WAR

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A million dollars worth of entertainment will assemble Saturday night to sing carols and tell Yuletide jokes to every American boy in service overseas.

The Hollywood victory committee said today the hour-long program will be recorded and distributed by the War Department to be broadcast wherever American troops are on Christmas Day. It will not be broadcast Saturday.

NEW WAR PLANS TO KNOCK OUT JAPS ARE MADE

No Details Revealed by President, However—Hopes To Meet Stalin Soon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt announced today that the United States, Great Britain, and China had reached a complete agreement for new military operations in the Chinese theater and that it would mean bad news for the Japanese.

The president disclosed at a press-radio conference that the agreement had just been reached at an extremely successful conference at Chungking among Generals Stilwell, Chennault and Somervell for the United States; Lord Louis Mountbatten, new British commander-in-chief in the southeast Asia area, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and his Chinese military advisers.

He said the agreement was mostly on operational questions and that it concerned the methods for handling what he called the continental campaign in the Far East.

No Details Given
The president told reporters that he could not give any details at this time but that the presence of General Somervell, chief of the American Army Forces of Supply, meant that supply problems were involved. He reported Somervell had returned to the United States.

Commenting on new American victories in the Southwest Pacific, President Roosevelt said that it carries the old idea of whittling away at Japanese strength and it has been extremely successful.

While the operation at Bougainville is part of the stepping stone method, in a sense, he added.

DRAFT OF FATHERS HITS SNAG AGAIN

Drive On in Congress To Put Them at End of List

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A drive to force action on legislation to put fathers at the bottom of the draft list got underway today under the leadership of Senator Johnson (D-Colo.).

Johnson disclosed he had obtained assurances that the Senate and House military committees would confer on the measure Monday "without fail."

His announcement followed a new demand by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) for the halting of father inductions.

Selective Service officials at Philadelphia, meanwhile expressed surprise at the low rate of rejection for physical disabilities among pre-Pearl Harbor fathers.

They said so far it is running about 10 percent, instead of 50 percent, as had been predicted.

MURRAY REELECTED PRESIDENT OF CIO

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The sixth constitutional convention of the congress of industrial organizations today unanimously elected President Philip Murray to a fourth term.

The 600 delegates staged a 16-minute impromptu parade through the convention room following the election.

Jap Naval Sortie Proves Costly

American Warships Blast Nip Force Attempting To Reach Solomons To Shell Yank Positions — Cruiser and Four Destroyers Sunk As Enemy Is Put To Flight

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Japan's navy, lured more and more within range of American ships' guns and bombers by threatened loss of the Solomons, already has paid the price of 14 warships sunk or damaged this week without getting closer than 40 miles to the U. S. Marine beachhead on Bougainville.

An enemy cruiser and four destroyers were sunk, two cruisers and two destroyers damaged out of a task force of 12 which tried to sneak down from Rabaul through darkness and rain early Tuesday and shell the Marines at Empress Augusta Bay.

United States fighting ships shattered that attempt in a two-hour running battle that sent the remnants fleeing toward Rabaul. Even then, the enemy warships were not safe. It is considered likely that survivors of the naval encounter were among the three destroyers sunk and two heavy cruisers damaged in a bomb blitz of Rabaul's harbor nine hours later by General MacArthur's Mitchells.

Headquarters reported today the American warships emerged scathed but entirely afloat.

At dawn that Tuesday, those same ships were attacked by 67 Japanese planes, sustaining more damage but weathering the raid and shooting down 17.

Ground stabs into the last Solomons holdings of the enemy penetrated deeper. At Empress Augusta Bay, where the Marines surprised the Japs by landing Monday 45 miles northwest of the enemy's strong Bougainville garrison at Buin, Nipponese soldiers have been routed from Puruta Island near the beach and from strong positions on a cape.

Thirty miles south of Bougainville, American and New Zealand soldiers have won complete control of Treasury (Mono) Island.

THREE JAP SHIPS BLAZE, bottom photo, after being struck by bombs during the 150-plane Allied raid on Rabaul, New Britain. One of the greatest victories for Allied air power in the South Pacific, three destroyers and eight large merchant ships were sunk, 44,000 tons of ships were badly damaged, 67 enemy planes were downed and 23 more probably destroyed by Allied bombers and fighters. This photo was transmitted by U. S. Army Signal Corps radio from New Guinea.

SOVIET-FINNISH PEACE HINTED

Finland Reported Trying To Get Out of War

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The newspaper, Social Demokraten said today the Finnish government had instructed Juhani Paasikivi, former minister to Russia, to be ready to go to Moscow — presumably to discuss negotiations for a separate peace.

Paasikivi played an important part in the negotiations which brought an end to the Finnish-Russian war of 1939-40.

"Finland's fate will be settled within a few days," the Social Demokraten declared.

There was no official confirmation of the report with regard to Paasikivi either in Helsinki or Stockholm.

The best information available from the Finnish capital, however, was that a new intensive effort to get Finland out of the war as a partner of Germany was under way, and one Finnish informant said that Paasikivi's dispatch to Moscow did not appear improbable.

CENSOR GETS CANDY FROM SOLDIER'S GIRL

Note Says It Is for Holes Cut in Letters

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Lieut. Seymour C. Karp of Sag Harbor, Long Island, who censors outgoing mail at an Eighth Air Force fighter station, was surprised the other day to receive a box of salt water taffy from Miss Olive Brooker of Mercerville, N. J.

Karp was surprised because he is not acquainted with the young lady, but a note which accompanied the package explained everything.

"In appreciation," the note said, "for all the little holes you've cut in Bob's letters."

P. S. "Bob" is Sergt. Bob Miller of Mercerville.

JAPS MEET IN TOKYO TO FOUND FACTOR FOR PEACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Representatives of the Japanese government and five puppet states met in Tokyo today to inaugurate "The Assembly of Greater East Asiatic Nations," which a Tokyo broadcast said would further the establishment of a new order in the Far East "as a fundamental factor for permanent world peace."

Troops Take Over Jap Center In California After Uprising

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—United States soldiers today began the construction of a high, barbed-wire fence at the Tulare Segregation center to keep in check the thousands of disloyal Japanese who Monday held the center's offices in virtual siege.

Announcement of the construction—designed to separate all administrative buildings and Caucasian living quarters from the estimated 16,000 internees—came from the War Relocation Authority.

The army took over the center today and moved swiftly to restore order at the troubled camp.

The Chronicle said 1,000 troops in battle dress arrived at the center in remote Siskiyou County, accompanied by eight tanks, 20 armored cars and jeeps carrying machine guns, after a civilian guard was beaten up.

The newspaper said 20 persons were injured as soldiers with fixed bayonets rounded up 500 trouble-makers.

Col. Verne Austin, commandant of the troops, confirmed that the army had taken over the camp, but declined to give further information. Ray Best, project director, refused telephone calls.

Floodlights every 80 to 100 feet illuminated the 700-acre camp which is enclosed by two barbed wire fences 40 feet apart. Inside

Tom Harmon Missing In Action Over China

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Army Pilot Tom Harmon, 24, Michigan's All-America football player who cheated death in the skies once this year, is reported missing in action over China.

The second lieutenant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harmon, were notified last night by the War Department that their son, a fighter pilot, was unreported since October 30.

Harmon, sole survivor of a bomber crash in the Dutch Guiana jungles last April, was attached to the 23rd group of the 449th fighter squadron stationed in the Far East.

No hint as to whether Japanese guns or an accident cut down one of Michigan's greatest gridiron stars was contained in the telegram received by Harmon's parents. It said simply that Harmon "has been reported missing in action since October 30. If further details or other information are received, you will be promptly notified."

Harmon was transferred to China last summer from North Africa where he was stationed after the crash of his bomber, "Old 98", named after his college football number, in the South American jungle.

Last to hear from Harmon was his football coach, H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, who said the All-America halfback of 1939 and 1940 had written in a letter dated October 14 that the Japanese pilots were inferior to the Nazi fliers.

"Tommy wrote that he was in one of two American planes jumping

MYSTERY MAN SHOT BY ZANESVILLE COP

Driver of Army Car Fails To Get Away in Chase

ZANESVILLE, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents today checked into the background of Harry F. Atkinson, of Detroit, formerly of Norwich, who was shot and killed by a policeman when he attempted to evade arrest here last night.

Atkinson, in civilian clothes, was driving an army automobile which Police Chief Clifford Courtney said was stolen in Detroit. Zanesville police tried to stop Atkinson after a gasoline station operator on state route 146 reported he had failed to tender ration coupons for gasoline he purchased. Atkinson ignored all commands to halt, Courtney said.

Police, after puncturing two tires on the fleeing car, drew alongside in downtown traffic and ordered the driver from the car. Atkinson refused and Patrolman Harry Summers shot twice, killing him at the wheel.

Courtney said Atkinson had tried to run down one policeman on foot and attempted to crowd the cruiser into the curb during the pursuit through town.

The holiday spirit already in the air in Moscow, where on Sunday the Russians will celebrate the anniversary of the October revolution, was heightened by the publication of the war review.

Allied armies in Italy followed up the capture of Isernia by smashing through shattered German defenses to the vicinity of the Garigliano River, about 80 miles south of Rome, where the Germans are expected to fight briefly before retiring into the Aurunci mountains, 62 to 73 miles southeast of the capital.

The British on the Adriatic routed the enemy from San Salvo with the help of bombarding British destroyers.

The American advance to the Gargliano, the capture of Isernia and the gains near the Adriatic virtually furnished the coup de grace to the stout Massico-Vastro German line forcing them to pull back for new defenses.

But The Show Goes On For Costello -- In Grief

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Comedian Lou Costello's return to radio after nearly eight months' absence induced by illness was no festive occasion for the chunky little man with the highpitched voice.

"Butch"—Lou Costello, Jr.—was dead.

The actor's infant son drowned in the swimming pool at the Costello estate in nearby Van Nuys a few hours before the broadcast.

But Costello, following the trouper's tradition that the audience must not know what twists in his heart while the show goes on; insisted upon making the scheduled appearance.

HITLER'S HORDE CHASED OUT OF SOUTHERN AREA

Allies Continue Advance In Italy and Heavy Bombing of Germany

By RICHARD McMURRAY

(By the Associated Press)

Bled pale by 2,700,000 casualties the Russians said they had exacted in four flaming months, Germany faced the bleak prospect today of losing her ally Finland, which guards 700 miles of front from the Arctic to Stalin-grad, tying down several hundred thousand Red army troops.

The Russians held virtually every foot of land east of the Dnieper today from its mouth below Kherson and along its 650-mile course through the heart of the Ukraine north to Gomel as the prize of their summer campaign.

Marshal Stalin's resume of four violent months of combat listed 900,000 Germans killed, 98,000 captured and 1,702,000 wounded, thus hoisting German casualties claimed by Russia to an astronomical 11,000,000, of which the Russians said 5,000,000 lay dead.

Swift sweeps over the Black Sea sands of the southern Ukraine brought the Cossacks to the river banks opposite Kherson, 65 miles northwest of the sealed off Crimea.

Official maps published today showed the Russians in possession of all the east side of the Dnieper from Gomel to Zaporozhe in the bend. South of Zaporozhe, the only German holdings east of the Dnieper are limited to the Crimea, a thin strip 52 miles long opposite Nikopol, and a minute bit of land in the Dnieper delta due south of Kherson.

The triumphant announcement carrying these staggering figures of German losses on the Russian front came just after the regular daily communique told of further gains by the Soviet Ukrainian armies under Gen. Feodor Tolbukhin.

Red army columns were reported in Aleshki, on the eastern bank of the lower Dnieper River opposite the Black Sea port of Kherson, at the river's mouth.

The Russians also announced their troops had captured the west bank highway town of Dimer, 20 miles north of Kiev, and had swept across White Russia to take Novokhovansk, 54 miles from the Latvian border in a move to outflank Vitebsk.

Moscow again failed to mention developments on the by-passed Crimean peninsula, but Berlin broadcasts said fresh Soviet shock troops from the Caucasus had landed south of Kerch to reinforce beachheads established three days ago.

The holiday spirit already in the air in Moscow, where on Sunday the Russians will celebrate the anniversary of the October revolution, was heightened by the publication of the war review.

RALPH BAUGHN, WOUNDED, GETS PURPLE HEART

Parents of Soldier Learn He Is Hit by Bomb Splinter in Fight in Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Baughn, 1104 South Hinde Street, have received word that their son, Pfc. Ralph N. Baughn, is now back at work after recovering from a wound received in action in Italy on September 9.

Pfc. Baughn was awarded the Purple Heart a few days ago, he said in the letter his parents received Friday. "I'm going to mail it home to you," he wrote. Pfc. Baughn had a bomb splinter in his hip but writes that he is getting better now.

Mrs. Baughn surmises that her son is now working in a hospital, although her only source of information is the change of address on his letter.

JAP CENTER TAKEN OVER BY ARMY FOLLOWING UPRISING OF INTERNES

this 40 foot band, which soldiers referred to as the "shooting strip," tanks and armored cars circled the area slowly in an unending parade. The few Caucasian personnel who remained and those whom the army asked to return after they had been evacuated, were ordered to stay in quarters for reasons of safety.

When the soldiers arrived, the Chronicle said, internees seized a number of automobiles and trucks belonging to camp administration officials and attempted to run down army guards.

The Japanese, who gathered in an angry demonstration last Monday, were quickly subdued. No shots were fired.

The injured security guard was identified as Edward Brobeck, a War Relocation Authority employee. His condition was reported critical.

Earlier Robert Cozzens, field director for the WRA, revealed that a "Reverend Kai," a Japanese Buddhist priest from Hawaii, told his countrymen at a mass demonstration Monday that "you must give your all for Japan," whereupon several thousand doffed their hats and bowed their heads.

While the demonstration was in progress, Cozzens said, he and several others were held virtual prisoners inside the administration building.

It followed a statement by Cozzens, WRA field director for the west coast, "that we do not propose to have any mob control at Tulelake."

Up to the present time, the Center's fencing has surrounded both the barracks city and the administration buildings, including the hospital at which Dr. Reece N. Pedicord of Wheeling, W. Va., was attacked during Monday's mass demonstration.

Under the new arrangement, the army now will patrol the fence between the administrative and barracks area as well as the already installed fences confining the internees on the other three sides of the project.

The move to separate the two parts of the project, and in effect place the army on protective patrol of all Caucasians except a few members of the Internal Police and Fire Department in the internees' barracks city, followed disclosure that several administration personnel had resigned since Monday's incident.

Costello was rehearsing at NBC yesterday when informed that his son, who would have been a year old Saturday, had crept from a play pen and fallen into the pool.

Costello only recently recovered from a long illness with rheumatic fever. He and his wife, Ann, have two daughters, Carol Lou, 5, and Patricia Ann, 7.

At the conclusion of the broadcast Abbott told the radio audience of the tragedy and commended Costello's fortitude in refusing to be replaced on the show.

TWO LIONS HERE ARE GUESTS AT SABINA

District Gov. Norman McLean And R. B. Sharp Attend

District Governor Norman McLean and R. B. Sharp, cabinet secretary of the district, of Washington C. H. made their official visit to the Sabina Lions Club at the club's last meeting, held in the Methodist Church dining room at Sabina.

McLean spoke of the part Lions Clubs can play in helping the community to have better homes. Sharp stressed the need of a Lions Club in every community.

J. C. Phelps, who has not missed a meeting of the Lions Club for nine years, was commended for his service. A gold membership key was presented to Harry Nunn at the meeting.

More than 50 members and guests were present at the meeting. President Milburn A. Gire, said. Among the guests were Mrs. H. L. Littleton, Mrs. Paul Bernard, Miss Betty Joan Bernard and wives of the members of the club.

The banquet was prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Locke, Girl Scouts Joan Foster, Shirley Chance, Mary Lou Lightner and Patricia Scholler served the dinner under the direction of Marjorie Reynolds. Dinner music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kunn and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Brock of Wilmington. Decorations featured Hallows' appointments of autumn leaves, carrying out the orange and black color scheme in the table doliies and low lighted candles. Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mrs. James E. Rose and Mrs. J. C. Williams were in charge of the decoration.

Other Meetings President Roosevelt told reporters today the Moscow post-war peace agreement undoubtedly will lead to other Nations meetings abroad, but that the question of his own prospective conference with Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill still was undecided.

He added he was still very anxious to meet Stalin because it was always a good thing to know the other fellow.

The other meetings he referred to, he said, would be of the two commissions set up at the Moscow conference and, earlier, that of the Mediterranean commission and a second to be held in London.

Mr. Roosevelt said Secretary Hull would be home soon.

To a question whether the Moscow conference had changed the status of General George C. Marshall, U. S. Army chief of staff, the president said it had not.

Another reporter asked if the conference would result in efforts to combat Jewish persecutions. He replied he did not know and that he would have to see Hull about it.

Asked why Austria had been singled out in a pledge for restoration of independence at the Moscow meeting, the president replied he would have to wait for the answer until Hull gets back.

ed by 17 Zeros and that they got two while the rest fled," Crisler said.

Both Crisler and Harmon's father expressed belief that Harmon flew in support of sharp Chinese action against the Japs in the vicinity of Hanor, reported on October 29.

Harmon's parents received a letter dated October 13 in which, they said, he indicated he expected to return to the United States soon. Harmon and his bomber crew were reported missing April 8. The bomber crashed during a tropical storm and Harmon parachuted to safety. For four days he beat his way through the jungle and finally was picked up by natives.

Harmon enlisted in the Air Corps in November, 1941, and was inducted in March, 1942, receiving his wings October 30, 1942.

Harmon's parents have three other sons, William, 23, a first lieutenant and instructor at Cochran Field, Macon, Ga.; Louis, Jr., 30, of Detroit; and Harold, 38, an Akron, O., war worker.

SECOND RED CROSS NURSING CLASS HERE

Proposed Class Requested by Negro Women

At the request of three colored women here, Miss Mary D. Robinson, secretary of home service at the Fayette County Chapter of the American Red Cross, announced that a home nursing class will be established for Negro women if enough enrollments are received.

She explained that at least 25 women should be enrolled to begin the class. Equipment already obtained to set up the nursing class already formed will be used to teach the new class when enough women are enrolled.

The time for the class sessions will be arranged after a sufficient number of women enroll, Miss Robinson said. "We already have the equipment and classroom set up," she added.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Out of Northern Russia a new ally—winter, the giant of the Steppes—is moving its mighty weight southward to the aid of the Red armies which are battling to close the great Dnieper-bend trap on Hitler's retreating forces.

This boon is developing as the Muscovites arrive at the expansive lower reaches of the Dnieper opposite Kherson. Winter soon will freeze the Dnieper and the awful fields of seemingly bottomless mud which the autumn rains have created. It will expedite the movement of troops and engines of war.

The fierce cold and snows, which smashed Napoleon with one stroke, already have had two goes at Hitler. This bids fair to be the third and last.

The mouth of the Dnieper-bend trap, which opens westward towards the Fatherland and temporary safety (or does security lie that way?), is between the strategic rail center of Krivoi Rog on the North and the estuary of the river at the Black Sea. That gate is about ninety miles wide.

This ninety mile stretch affords the only escape for the large German forces which remains inside the trap. Many troops already have been moved through the opening, although thousands have been killed or captured by the pursuing Reds, and vast quantities of Nazi war material have been abandoned. Estimates of the number of Hitlerites still within the trap are guesses, but undoubtedly the total runs to scores of thousands.

Disaster is setting the pace for the Germans, in what is one of the greatest crises of the war. Already they have suffered catastrophe. Today's news from Moscow claims 2,700,000 Nazi casualties during the four months' offensive, and of these 900,000 are killed.

A complete breakdown and debacle of the German forces could grow out of the present position. However, the final returns aren't yet in. Despite the terrible losses they already have suffered, and still are bound to have, they may be able to fall back to fresh positions for another stand.

Here enters winter. The Hitlerites haven't been properly prepared, even with clothing, for winter heretofore and can't be now. The Russians are well set for cold and snows.

The Red armies are said to have fresh reserves, specially equipped and trained in winter warfare, ready to throw into the battle-line at the right moment. That won't be long delayed. Already snows are reported in the north and the frosts are tightening the mud.

By mid-December—say six weeks from now—even the Dnieper will be frozen in the Kiev region. Christmas will see ice at Kremenchug, and within the first few days of January—two months hence—the great river will be frozen clear down to Kherson.

With the freezing, the Red armies will be able to unleash fresh striking-power and speed. And six or eight weeks don't allow much time for the harassed German armies to pull themselves out of the trap and retire to new positions.

Right now the Nazis are up to their necks in evacuating troops from the trap. This means they must hold the gateway open between Krivoi Rog and Nikolayev on the Bug River, not far from the mouth of the Dnieper. That's a bloody job, and may be largely love's labor lost.

While all this is going on in the extreme South I think we should do well to keep a weather eye on sections further North. Fresh trouble seems to be boiling up for the Germans in the Kiev sector. And above there on the Smolensk front the invaders face the danger of a further offensive which might cut through their line and hew a road clear into the Baltic States and East Prussia.

Our guess is that while Herr Hitler will have the traditional white Christmas in Russia, the poor fellow isn't headed for a very merry Yuletide.

UNUSUAL SUIT
HILLSBORO—William T. Reed, Waverly attorney, has filed suit against Mrs. Leroy Skeens, Greenfield, for compensation as administrator and attorney for her father, Emerson Streitenberger, of Waverly. He asks $525 saying he had been employed by Mrs. Skeens and a few days later the employment was cancelled.

HOME NURSING CLASS MEETS ON NOVEMBER 16

First Aid, Nutrition Classes Being Organized Now, Miss Robinson Says

Now that registrations for the Red Cross Home Nursing course assure the establishment of the class, registrations for the first aid and nutrition classes are sought by the Red Cross headquarters here, Miss Mary D. Robinson, secretary of home service, said today.

She announced that the first aid and nutrition classes would be taught at the Red Cross headquarters when registration was high enough to warrant holding the courses. Just who will teach the courses has not been decided yet, she added.

First meeting of the home nursing class will be at Red Cross headquarters November 16 at 7 P. M. Miss Robinson said. Miss Elizabeth Rowland, county health nurse, will teach the course. At the first meeting, schedules of classes will be worked out, Miss Robinson added.

Miss Rowland, questioned as to what she hoped to accomplish in the nursing class, said that she wanted to teach each person enrolled how to take care of a sick person—make the beds, give baths, and care for the sickroom. She also indicated that community health and sanitation would be stressed.

One bed, loaned by the Dale Furniture Company, is ready for the class. Miss Robinson indicates that another bed will be set up if the enrollment requires it. She explained that the space problem was the main obstacle in setting up another bed now. Other sick-room equipment, owned by the Red Cross, will be used in the course.

ALL-PATRIOTIC SONGS ON CHOIR PROGRAM

North Street Church of Christ Choir Plans Program

The choir at the North Street Church of Christ will present an all-patriotic music program next Sunday night at 7:30 in the church.

Miss Marcia Higley will be their accompanist.

Rev. R. Byron Carver, pastor of the church, will speak on "Victory Through Christ." Dickie Johnson and Jimmie Flint will play taps and reveille on trumpets at the beginning and end of the program.

Choir numbers are "Come On, America," "Song of Allegiance," "God Bless Our Land," "America," "Banner of the Cross" and "Christ Is King." The choir of more than 20 members, is directed by Miss Christine Switzer. Mrs. R. Byron Carver is the organist.

SALES TAX RECEIPTS STILL LEADING 1942

So far this year prepaid tax receipt sales in Fayette County are $11,674.14 greater than they were for the same period last year, as shown by the weekly report for the week ending October 23.

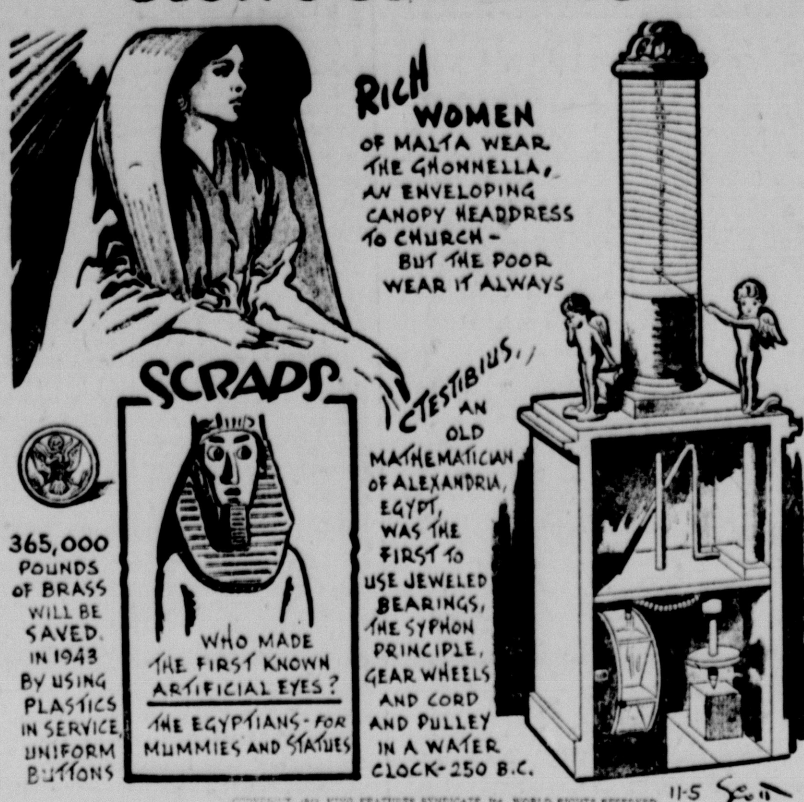

During that week the total sales reached $2,946.24 compared with $2,297.65 for the same week last year.

Sales in Fayette County have been better generally than in most of the surrounding counties.

The Lincoln highway connecting New York and San Francisco, is 3,384 miles long.

OBITUARY

Laura Alice, daughter of Sarah Jane Kirtland and William Cooper, was born October 11, 1883 in Scioto County, Ohio and passed away October 31st, 1943, at Painesburg, Ohio, aged 60 years and 20 days. On July 7th, 1902, she was united in marriage to Thomas Franklin Platt and to this union were born 13 children, eight boys and 5 girls.

She leaves to mourn their loss the husband and the following children—Ada, Virgil, Ralph, Betty, Jane, Georgia Carol, Christiana, Donna, Everett and Donald who is in the service of his country. She has 11 grandchildren. There are four children that have preceded her in death, namely, Thomas Franklin, Lawrence, Joseph, and Robert, also four grandchildren. She has four sisters and two brothers: Mr. Otto Cooper, Mr. William Cooper, Mrs. Maggie Eaton, Mrs. Minerva Joseph, Mrs. May Rountt and Mrs. Fannie Platt as well as a host of other relatives and friends. She will be missed in the neighborhood and community. She was a good mother and was always ready to help others in time of sickness and trouble. Mrs. Platt was a Christian and a member of the Waterloo Church of Christ in Christian Union. We feel our loss in her eternal gain. Her testimony being that she was ready to go or stay, just "His will be done."

Dear Mother, your life work is ended. You have come to the end of the way; The crown that awaits in Heaven, is yours at the close of the day.

With intense pain you suffered, Your troubles were sore; But now they are ended, And you will suffer no more.

We have laid you down In the quiet rest; Your parting was painful, But God knows best.

Never shall you be forgotten, Never shall your memory fade; Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger Around the grave where you are laid.

THE SUBSIDY SCHEME

We have heard quite a number of people here in Fayette County ask for an explanation of the workings of the government's subsidy program. They have heard about subsidies for years and many never have fully understood just what they are or how they operate. Subsidy is one of those vague words, to a lot of people, that they hear and see in print often but never have found out all about it.

Right now it is beginning to play a big part and may affect the nation's taxation program in a big way. Those who have not followed some of the New Deal proposals nor investigated the type of financing that goes on, are interested and anxious to learn more about it.

In a recent issue, the Chicago Journal of Commerce carried an editorial briefly touching how some of President Roosevelt's proposed subsidies will work. We quote it for the enlightenment of those who are interested in what dependable observers believe will happen. The editorial follows:

"The President's 10,000-word message favoring the continuation of the present subsidy program, may be put down as fairly unconvincing. At present the cost of living index is at the 123.2 point. Mr. Roosevelt proposes to push back the index to 117.8 by next May. That was the President's promise to the labor unions, and was the level as of September, 1942. If the administration could reach that lower level and hold the line there until after the elections, it would be a political feather in his cap.

"How does the President propose to carry out this reduction in living cost? According to his message, the administration would like Congress to appropriate $800,000,000 to be used in the following manner:

"1. The government would buy up a few key farm commodities and the farmers would be paid better prices than they could pry out of Congress. Once the government has the crops, it will auction them for whatever the market will bring. This means low bids from middlemen (in view of the large supply of some farm crops), and hence low prices to consumers. But at a loss to the government.

"2. For the crops whose production is below par, the government would buy up the supply, boost support prices, and then introduce the commodities into trade channels at cheaper figures. This process would assure the farmer a satisfactory return, prevent middlemen from trying to outbid each other at the farm level, and permit lower retail prices. But at a loss to the government.

"3. Some prices would be artificially beaten down at retail levels, while producers, middlemen and distributors would be paid the difference by Washington. But at a loss to the government.

It can be seen that this method of "It can be seen that this method of auction and trade channels really leaves the basic situation untouched. Mr. Roosevelt proposes not to grapple with inflation, but to subsidize it, for he would give the farmers extra cash, and leave more in the pockets of consumers to help drive other prices up. Moreover, to make matters worse, consumers would be given the impression that their cost of living is dropping, when as a matter of fact the hidden cost would be added to their tax bills. But that won't have to be paid until 1945—after the elections.

"This sleight-of-hand may be what the administration calls statesmanship, but it appears to be nothing but a political dodge to avoid facing the inflation issue realistically and to avoid a sales tax to help mop up the surplus purchasing power which is driving prices skyward."

WE SHOULD BE GRATEFUL

People have started thinking about Thanksgiving—what day is best for this festival and what they have to be thankful for. Some seem inclined to be a little bitter about it. What reason have they for gratitude, they ask, when there is death, terror and destruction almost everywhere?

This is largely a personal problem, in which everyone has a right to his own conclusion. For them there can be only sympathy and an effort to relieve their grief or fear.

But in general, when the afflictions of this comparatively fortunate nation are honestly compared with those of most other nations in the world's present plight, fair-minded people may conclude that there is more reason than usual for honest gratitude. There is much bitter tragedy that so many of us escape.

Drummer Meets 'Pals' in New Guinea
GREAT FALLS, Mont.—"Imagine meeting you here!" said Lt. Godfrey Reed, of Great Falls, when he met his trap-drums in New Guinea.
Lieutenant Reed was the drummer in a Great Falls orchestra before he enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1941. Later, when an airbase was established here, his musical instruments were donated to soldiers at the base.
The lieutenant was sent to New Guinea. He went to an Army dance. "Imagine my surprise when I saw the drummer setting up my own drums," he said in a letter home.

However, what Tannehill talks about is the weather of the world and that may run his book into the best seller lists. He unearths such facts as: in summer the temperature of the water in some parts of the tropical Pacific reaches 90 degrees and in the Red Sea and Persian Gulf, 94 to 96 degrees.

In spite of that, he explains, the air in these tropical waters feels cold to those constantly exposed to it and cites Eddie Rick-enbacker's experience on a raft while drifting around the Pacific. Waves slopped into the raft at night felt like buckets of ice water, although it was probably far above 70 degrees.
He trots out such little interesting items as these: In Baguio, the well-known resort and gold mining town in the Philippines, they once had 46 inches of rain in one day; in Jamaica, where we now have bases, 96.5 inches fell in four days; and in Formosa, where the Japs trained for their attack on Manila, there once was 81.5 inches in three

He explains the siroccos of Italy, Malta, and Sicily; the sim-flochs of the European mountains—all winds that will be as familiar to our boys over there as a winter nor'wester or a Rocky Mountain chinook.
Tannehill fills in with charts that tell you month to month what the weather is likely to be not only over all the land areas of the world but also on the oceans.
Tannehill has written a book that will be of much service and maybe comfort to a lot of us in this global war, but he also has tossed off a non-technical work on weather that is likely to become one of the most thumb-over reference tomes in the libraries of the armchair generals. days.
What I started out to say was that the genial Mr. Tannehill is one fellow who really HAS done something about the weather.

Contagious Diseases Serious

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

swering it on my own responsibility. Because it is one of the great facts of life.

Immunity to most contagious diseases is dissolved in a fluid mixture. It is in the mother's blood and while she is carrying her baby, it seeps into the baby's blood. Therefore, a baby up to about a year old is just as much protected as an adult. But the immunity wears out. And then comes the period of measles, mumps, whooping cough and scarlet fever. After the immunity acquired from the mother is gone, it takes very little exposure to cause contagion.

Measles Most Contagious Disease
Measles is the most contagious disease on earth. Apparently just a wind blowing from an infected person to a non-infected person is enough. Scarlet fever is the least contagious of all the childhood diseases. If you want to prove this, take a class of children about ten and ask every one who has had measles to raise the hand. Practically every one will go up. Then ask for scarlet fever cases. Only about five out of twenty will go up.

I am not in favor of protecting children from measles. At about the age of four, if he hasn't had it yet, I would take a youngster for an afternoon to play with a full-blown case. But I would go out of my way to protect him. We saw too many serious cases and deaths in the Army. A lot of the boys had been raised on farms, had never associated closely with others, and they came down by the droves with measles. And they had all the complications that kids at home seldom have—ear infection, pneumonia and everything you can think of. Our death rate was higher than from any other disease, counting the pneumonia secondary to measles, as measles. Compared to measles, scarlet fever is hardly contagious at all.

SYNOPSIS
Roommates and cousins, BETH KINNAN, serious-minded and trusting, and ANDREA BARNES, rather self-centered and selfish, find that the tense, accompanying America's impending entrance into the war is beginning to affect their lives. For three years Beth has been going with JIM RONALD, who still has not been too successful in getting ahead in the world. While Andrea has been attracted by DENNIS ARCHER, 15 years her senior, but wealthy and interesting—and also married.

CHAPTER SEVEN
AS SHE shoved the banknote under the grille of the ticket window, Andrea said, "One for Camp Abington and return, please."

The ticket seller gave her a quick appraising look. "He said, 'Certainly, madam.'"

Andrea could feel his eyes following her away from the window in the same seemingly unconscious way that she was aware of other eyes upon her in the railroad station, and she thought, with no small satisfaction, "No one would know this is the very first trip I've ever taken away from Pennington."

Limited as her experience was, she was prepared to give the appearance of a girl to whom luxury liners, trans-continental trains and expensive hotels were of life-long familiarity, for she had lived these experiences in dreams—with one great difference: Dennis would have been alone; Dennis would have been with her.

Some of the calm of her smooth brow under her new wide-brimmed green hat was momentarily ruffled as she thought of Dennis, and she caught her lip between her teeth as her eyes fell on the row of telephone booths directly to her left.

Resolutely she turned her back to them and marched across the station waiting room. Her heels made sharp little taps on the stone, reflections of the staccato trend of her thoughts, which were a blend of injury, anger and frustration. All singly and collectively directed at Dennis.

It wasn't as if she'd actually told the truth to him. She'd just been sort of trying him out that night in February when she said, "Darling, Jim Ronald has asked me to marry him."

"Are you going to?" Dennis had asked, with no expression to show her how that news must have affected him.

"I . . . I don't know," she'd answered, truthfully perhaps, but she didn't tell him that JIM THOUGHT she was engaged to him.

"That was in February, and now it's March, and I haven't heard from him since that night!" She said it out loud, and the man at the information desk said, "I beg your pardon, miss, were you speaking to me?"

Andrea came to with a start.

his head and muttering in his beer, "I wonder, could it be."

Britons expect the spectacular from their "Winnie" and they wouldn't put it past him to try to kidnap Hitler.

Winston Churchill delights in tantalizing predictions. And they usually ring true—if you can read them correctly. On June 30 he told Commons that it was "very probable there will be heavy fighting in Mediterranean and elsewhere before the leaves of autumn fall." Less than a month later—July 10—a great Allied force invaded Sicily.

So when Churchill says Mussolini's rescue "certainly shows that there are many possibilities of this kind open in modern war" Britons sit up.

Some members of Commons who laughed loudest at the time of the remark swear they saw a twinkle in Churchill's eye as he spoke. Overnight they began to conjure up pictures of further exploits of this kind—but next time backfiring on Hitler like so many other things have.

"Why not descent on Hitler's headquarters on the Eastern front?" some asked.

"Why not on his crow's nest at Berchtesgaden?"

There is plenty of reason to believe that Allied intelligence keeps track of the fuhrer's whereabouts.

Some months ago Hitler's arrival at Munich was followed by a special air raid on the Brown House. It just missed him.

It will come that Commando headquarters here are exploring possibilities of kidnapping the fuhrer. And if you told a Briton that, he'd only smile:

"Blimey, that's our Winnie all right."

SGT. BOB WEST SAYS USO CLUBS ARE 'WONDERFUL'

'If It Weren't for USO There Wouldn't Be a Thing for Soldiers To Do'

"If it weren't for the USO in Riverside, California, there wouldn't be a thing for soldiers to do," Sgt. Robert M. West, 19 year old son of Mrs. Bessie West and youngest of her five sons in service, said today when he began telling of the things the USO had done for himself and the other soldiers in Camp Haan, near Riverside.

"Once, when we wanted to have a dance for our battalion, we asked the USO hostess to get enough girls for us, and she did. There were about as many girls as men at the dance. We did without our meat ration for one day in camp to get enough cold cuts and cheese to have some refreshments—we had 40 pounds of cold cuts and about 20 pounds of cheese," Sgt. West related.

And besides the dance which the USO made possible, it furnishes shaving and shower facilities, swimming pool, telephones, magazines, movies, ping-pong, pool tables and directories for finding rooms, Sgt. West continued.

"One of the things we like is a recording machine put there so we can make records to send home. The only thing we ever have to pay for is the recording disc—that costs a dime," he explained.

Sgt. West told of visiting the Hollywood canteen. "It sure is a thrill to have Bette Davis hand you a sandwich," he said. He added that Kay Kyser's band played there every Saturday night. "We saw Orson Welles' 'Big Top' magic show one of the first times it was put on too. That was grand—it was touring the camps with it now," he continued.

Sgt. West has been in the army for seven months. He is home on furlough now for the first time since he has been in the army. And, in his own words, "I don't know what servicemen would do without the USO."

A story of how the enemy is trying to spread gloom among fighting men on furlough has been called to the attention of Congress by Representative ones (R-Ohio).

Hoping to lower the morale of fighting men, Axis agents are circulating false rumors that the American public cares nothing about the welfare of service men on furlough in the big centers of population, Jones said.

"Much has been said and much has been printed to the effect that soldiers have no place to sleep, no place to get a bite to eat, no place to freshen up, and so on," Jones informed the house in a statement.

"I think it is time that it be pointed out that on the contrary, the public at large, the volunteer organizations, and private industry have stepped in and done a wonderful job in this respect in generally holding out the hand of friendship through providing places, comforts, conveniences, by giving at private expense facilities and conveniences that the government can not provide for men on furlough. "I maintain that our people have given thoughtful consideration and wise action to the problem of the servicemen on furlough, and that this side of the story should be brought out rather than the harmful tales to the contrary."

MILK PRICE INCREASES PROPOSED IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Milk price increases aggregating $600,000,000 a year throughout the country—or slightly more than one cent a quart at retail—were recommended to Congress today by the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation as a substitute for the administration's subsidy program.

The proposal was laid before the senate agriculture committee in a bill by Senators Eastland (D-Miss) and McClellan (D-Ark.)

JACKSON GLOVE EMPLOYEES GIVE $500 FOR NWF

Prevailing Prices in Greece Soar—Butter $190 Pound There

Jackson Glove Company employees—150 of them—dug down into their pockets to fork over $500 for the National War Fund, Emmett Passmore and Edwin Suntheimer, co-chairmen of the Industrial committee of the National War Fund here, said today.

Solicited by factory workers, the employees gave to the tune of nearly $3.50 each. Reports from other industries here have not yet been turned in. Passmore and Suntheimer indicate. These reports, as well as up-to-date totals on ward and township quotas, will probably show in the totals to be determined after the report meeting of captains and committeemen in A. B. Greek relief is one of the 17 agencies composing the National War Fund. In an article published in the last edition of the Ohio Division of National War Fund is quoted here:

"You folks who squawk about ration stamps just listen to this: Meat, $95 a pound; cheese, $97 a pound; rice, $97 a pound; macaroni, $43 a pound; butter, $190 a pound. These are the prevailing prices in Greece. It would take a fortune to go to market there these days—if there were a market."

"It's a difficult life that the people of Greece are living—a former Greek cabinet minister, for instance, spends 60 percent of his income for a glass of milk and one egg a day for each of his three children."

"In 1939 Greece was third among the European nations in the birth rate. In 1942, there were 30,551 more deaths than births."

5 Ways to Cut Feed Waste

1. Fill hoppers only two-thirds full.
2. Cull regularly. Ten to 20% of the hens in most flocks are loafing . . . costing you money and wasting feed.
3. Provide 3" hopper space per bird. When birds have to crowd the hoppers, they scatter out feed.
4. Keep sacked feed on a platform, away from the wall; loose feed in a rat-proof metal container.
5. USE PURINA SUPPLEMENT.

Japs Realize War Lost, Returning Prisoner Says

(Editor's Note—In the following dispatch Raymond P. Cronin, chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Manila when the Japanese invaded the Philippines, gives the initial firsthand account of conditions inside Japan's "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere" since the first American repatriates returned from Japan in July, 1942. Cronin, returning home aboard the exchange ship Gripsholm, went to the Philippines in 1935 after serving in Associated Press Bureaus in Pittsburgh and Columbus.)

By RAYMOND P. CRONIN PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Competent observers who returned from Japan within the past two months say Japan's leaders know that the Rising Sun Empire is fighting a losing war but that the masses are being kept in ignorance of the score, within the government prodding them constantly to greater war efforts.

Observers outside Japan in close touch with Japanese military leaders, especially in the Philippines—where I was interned for almost two years—told me a similar story.

They said the Japanese military chieftains in the war zones, plus officials in the Japanese military administrations in various occupied countries, give the impression they are convinced Japan will lose the war to the Allies but that they are hoping things may be eventually settled around a conference table by a peace treaty leaving Japan sufficiently strong to remain a first class power.

These informants expressed the belief that Japanese military men in the field are attempting to sow the seeds of brotherhood among the Asiatic races in the hope Japan may reap a harvest some 25 years hence by leading a war against the white races.

The general health in the Santo Tomas internment camp in Manila where I was a prisoner, the largest concentration of civilian prisoners in the Far East, is gradually deteriorating because of the lack of essential foods.

A heavy cargo of relief supplies—totaling some 30,000 cases of all kinds of food, medicines and clothing—is going to Manila aboard the Japanese repatriation ship Teia Maru. If it reaches the internees it will stave off the serious situation for at least a few months, but a long-range, sure-fire food and medical supply program is necessary unless speedy repatriation is planned.

At Santo Tomas camp, doctors—among them Dr. Earl R. Leach of the Rockefeller Foundation, who organized and managed the camp hospital—say the general diet is now less than 1,800 calories daily as compared with a normal diet of 2,500.

Essential foods now are unavailable in the local markets, because the Japanese not only are living off the country but are removing supplies—especially rice and sugar—to other areas, perhaps to Japan proper and to occupied regions further south.

The same condition undoubtedly exists in other Philippine civilian internment camps at Baguio, Los Banos and Davao.

The food situation in Manila outside the camps, and supposedly throughout the Philippines, also is critical.

LIQUOR GALLONAGE SALE OFF IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The state liquor department's gallonage sales for the first 40 weeks of this year were down 45.5 percent from the comparable 1942 period, liquor director Don Fisher said today, attributing the drop to wartime shortages.

From Jan. 1 to Oct. 9 the department sold 4,284,486 gallons of spirits, against 7,861,640 in the similar period of last year. Comparable figures in 1940 and 1941 were, respectively, 5,940,577 and 6,674,522.

The department's dollar-volume of sales to Oct. 9 this year totaled $53,221,195, compared to $66,945,976 a year ago, $50,119,382 in 1941 and $51,506,094 in 1940.

In a year "the average woman worker loses 9.5 days' time and the average man 8 days' time, because of illness or injury."

The German high command said today in a communique broadcast from Berlin that an Allied landing attempt had been made in the Pescara area, 40 miles northwest of the British Eighth Army's present position on the Adriatic, in an apparent renewal of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's leapfrog tactics.

The communique said a second landing attempt also had been made in the "area of Istonia," but declared that both attempts were defeated by coastal artillery and that one motor torpedo boat was sunk.

American Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, blasted targets in western Germany today while medium Marauder bombers attacked targets in northern France, U. S. airforce headquarters announced.

within a few hours after RAF Mosquito bombers hit the same general area last night in the wake of one of the most devastating 24-hour punches yet thrown at the Reich.

There was no official indication of the size of today's force, but on the basis of Wednesday's 2,000-ton daylight attack on Wilhelmshaven by around 1,000 American bombers and escorting fighters, it seemed likely that the new operation, coupled with the RAF's 2,000-ton attack on Dueseldorf Wednesday night, would boost the total tonnage loosed on the enemy within the past 48 hours to a new peak.

Last night's returning Mosquito fliers said fires still burned in Dueseldorf from the attack in which explosives were dropped at the rate of 74 tons a minute.

The possibility was conceded here today that the four-power Moscow agreement may change Turkey's neutral position in the war and Turks awaited with evident interest the results of Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu's trip to Cairo to confer with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The apparent establishment of a close understanding between the British, Americans and the Russians on a postwar world shunted aside a major stumbling block for Turkish collaboration, for the Turks have been apprehensive that a misunderstanding between Russia and the Atlantic allies might some day leave her at the mercy of a dissatisfied and isolated Russia.

The feeling has been expressed in London that Eden, as a major point, may ask Menemencioglu for Allied air bases in Turkey.

SELF RATIONING OF ELECTRICITY AND GAS NOW

Conservation Voluntary Now, May Be Mandatory Later, Hill Says

"Ration yourself on gas and electricity consumption. It's your patriotic duty to do so—and your democratic privilege to disregard the requests of the War Production Board," F. E. Hill, manager of the Dayton Power and Light Company said today in answer to queries about gas and electricity shortages.

"This is a request now," Hill said and added significantly a quotation from a letter written by J. A. Krug, director of the Office of War Utilities of the War Production Board: "However, it may become mandatory if people do not cooperate and comply."

The WPB is placing this conservation on a voluntary basis now and if everyone does all he can by not using unnecessary fuel or electricity, no one will suffer, Hill added.

Gas may be conserved, he explained by not using gas ovens to heat rooms. "You don't really heat the room with an oven—you just heat the oven to the extent that the lining may become warped and broken. And in these days, an oven might not be so easy to replace," Hill declared, adding that the only part of the room heated was just a foot or so directly in front of the oven. "There isn't any ventilation in the oven to send the air over the room as there is in a gas heater," he stated.

Hill said that some people here were using gas heaters for heating their houses now to conserve the coal which is in their basements. "Gas is just as essential as coal—that's why steam heat shouldn't be supplemented with gas heaters unless it is absolutely necessary," he continued.

Electricity, Hill said, can be saved by turning out all lights not in use, by turning on electrical appliances only when it is necessary and by cutting down on lighting used for advertising and display purposes.

"A ten percent cut by householders in their electric consumption would amount to about 20 kilowatt hours per same amount of time. A ten percent cut by the same amount of time would be over 100 kilowatt hours," he continued, emphasizing that a cut in the use of electricity everywhere was "most essential."

There is a critical shortage of fuel, equipment, manpower and materials, Hill said, using as an illustration the gas wasted when a stove burner is left burning without anything cooking on it. "We have to use more men to shovel precious coal in order to fill the mains with the gas drained from it and wasted," Hill explained. "We don't want people to do without gas, but we don't want our essential war industries to go without it either, and it takes a terrific amount of gas to heat-treat parts, for example," he continued, adding that every effort was being exerted to provide enough gas for the defense plants as well as for the home consumer.

Speaking of city heat, Hill said that weatherstripping, caulking windows, insulating covering unused pipes with heat insulation, eliminating unnecessary insulation would keep the heat where it belongs—inside the house. "City steam heat takes plenty of coal," he commented. Keeping blinds down at night and up in the daytime will also help conserve the heat, he said.

Coal, oil, natural gas, electricity, water, communication and transportation are the seven major utilities which will benefit from this conservation of "vital" gas and electricity, Hill added.

"It's on the honor system now—it's up to you," he concluded.

LIQUOR SALE LEGALIZED
VAN WERT, Nov. 5—(AP)—Sale of liquor in Van Wert was legalized by a 2,200 to 1,367 vote in Tuesday's election.

Sonja Henie just couldn't resist the rhythms of Woody Herman and his orchestra in her new 20th Century-Fox hit, "Wintertime." When Cesar Romero offered to trip the light fantastic, Sonja just melted in his arms—while Jack Oakie and Carole Landis looked on. All are in the gay new musical triumph, which starts Sunday at the Fayette Theatre, Nov. 7-8-9.

With a Buckeye In Congress...

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress, 7th Ohio District

We are changing the usual form of "With a Buckeye in Congress" this week in order to give our readers a letter we have just received from our former family physician in Washington, Lieutenant Colonel Edward C. Grass, who is now serving as Chief Division Surgeon for the 37th Division of the U. S. Army, which is made up of Ohio boys and has been seeing real action in the South Pacific. We believe you will find the letter, dated October 17th, quite interesting. Here it is:

"My dear Clarence: Hello! Just a short letter to let you know the old 37th covered itself with glory in the New Georgia campaign, and that I was all thru it with the 148th (Regiment). As a reward I was made a Lieutenant Colonel and am now Bob Beightler's Chief Surgeon with the title of Division Surgeon. The only thing I don't like about it is that I have to follow him into the front lines, and he is really in there all the time. I always thought Generals remained at a safe distance in the rear—but not General Beightler. One time he had his command post within a hundred yards of the Japs and they were sniping and machine gunning all over the place constantly."

"My outfit—the 148th under Colonel Baxter—was cut off and surrounded for three days, but the old Indian blooded Ohio boys fought it out with the Japs, and had a hard time getting through the dead Japs after it was all over. I was scared, of course, and had one hundred and twenty-three wounded boys on my hands to take care of at the time. Service in the tropics is hard on the troops and I am hoping that after the next big push the 37th may get back home for a little rest period. We have now been here eighteen months."

"I hope you are okay and that everything is going well on the Hill. My regards to your family and the best of everything to you. The next time I write I hope to be closer to Tokyo. Your friend and physician—Eddie."

For a good many years now there has been, off and on, a running fight between the producers of butter and the manufacturers and distributors of oleomargarine as to the taxes and other restrictions on the sale of the latter product. Last Tuesday another battle in the long struggle between these two food products got under way in a hearing before the House Committee on Agriculture on the Fulmer Bill to repeal the various taxes on oleomargarine and oleomargarine dealers, including the ten cents per pound tax on artificially colored margarine. Most of these taxes were, of course, levied for the purpose of protecting the dairy interests of the country. Fulmer comes from South Carolina, a section of the country having only a small dairy industry, but furnishing large quantities of cottonseed oil and other products used in making oleomargarine. Southern Representatives are expected to vote for the Bill, while those from the farm and dairy districts of the North will undoubtedly oppose it. The Agriculture Committee is split on the measure, and it is a toss-up as to what its final action will be. If the Bill reaches the floor of the House another merry fight can be expected there.

The Senate bill, making changes in the Selective Service Act, was amended by the House last week and returned to the Senate for concurrence in the House amendments. The important changes made in the bill included taking Selective Service out from under the War Manpower Commission and making it a separate governmental agency and an addition to the law requiring the induction of all eligible single men and married men without children, from any and all sections of the United States, before pre-Pearl Harbor fathers are drafted in any Selective Service district. House action was almost unanimous, but it is reported that the Senate may not look with favor on the House amendments and that the final text of the bill will have to be worked out by a Conference Committee representing the two legislative bodies. OPA orders issued last week fixing price ceilings on live cattle have created a real furor in Washington, as well as throughout the livestock producing sections and markets of the country. House and Senate members from the Southwest, where most of our cattle are produced, are especially indignant. In fact, they are on the warpath in full cry. Congressional students of livestock and food problems, as well as other authorities, are of almost the unanimous opinion that the new ceiling prices on cattle will bring about a further reduction in the nation's meat supply and will otherwise add to the confusion and chaos that now exist on the food production and distribution sector of the home front.

Hold on to your chairs, boys and girls, for here comes some astounding news. Believe it or not, Harry Hopkins and his good young wife are scheduled to move out of the White House into a home of their own some time this week. They have leased a residence on N Street in the old and historic Georgetown section of Washington. Mr. Hopkins has been a guest of the White House since early in 1940, and was married there last year to the former Mrs. Louise Macy of New York. A former low salaried social worker, Hopkins has long been considered the closest advisor and personal friend of the President and the number one member of the so-called New Deal Palace Guard.

Japs Exploiting Conquered Land To Build Up Defenses For Attack They Expect, Freed Prisoner Says

(Editor's Note: Russell Brines, en route home on the exchange liner Gripsholm after nearly two years of internment by the Japanese in Manila and Shanghai, tells in the following dispatch of Japan's plans for holding the East Asia empire she has conquered. Brines served in the Tokyo and Manila Bureaus of the Associated Press before he was captured at the fall of Manila.)

By RUSSELL BRINES
Copyright, 1943, by the Associated Press

PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 5—(AP)—Japanese militarists are making every effort to mobilize totally all East Asia in anticipation of Allied attacks which they warn the people will be crucial.

There is ample evidence that the Japanese militarists are attempting feverishly to utilize to the fullest all resources of the manpower reservoir of their newly conquered territories; meanwhile they are reported to be constructing a series of defense lines for a vaunted "last man" battle for the Japanese empire.

Through censorship and internment walls these things are discernable:

1. The Japanese are anticipating a big Allied land smash against Burma.

2. Japanese militarists are still holding sizable and presumably crack forces in Manchuria to protect the rear against Russia and are probably maintaining other key units in the Netherlands East Indies and Malaya.

3. They are exploiting to the limit of their abilities raw materials which are all being diverted to war production and in which considerable forced labor is being used.

4. The controlled press is preparing the people of Asia for long, defensive battles ahead.

Morale in Japan appears to be unshaken, although some unrest is reported in other parts of the empire. The militarists and gendarmes are enforcing compliance with vigorous measures, while Conference Committee representing the two legislative bodies.

OPA orders issued last week fixing price ceilings on live cattle have created a real furor in Washington, as well as throughout the livestock producing sections and markets of the country. an extensive propaganda campaign is attempting to sell the idea of protecting Asia against British-American "Imperialism."

General indications are that the Japanese plan to use Burmese, Indian and Thai troops as much as possible in the defense of Burma. Chinese "Peace Preservation Corps" are being trained to take over patrol duty in thinly garrisoned areas in China. My impression is that Japanese land forces will fight most desperately for the Netherlands East Indies and Malaya, whose raw materials are vital, and the strategic areas of central and north China and Manchuria, from where the Allies could threaten Japan's vital industrial areas from the air.

The controlled press is now directing attention to the prospective Burma campaign under the guise of thunderous anti-India propaganda.

Meanwhile travelers say that French Indo-China—the sole section of East Asia that is not completely Japanese-dominated—is becoming one of Japan's major military bases. Movements of troops and supplies are continuous. Travelers believe that Camranh Bay, naval base on the east coast, is fortified but is not extensively used because its narrow entrance might allow Allied sea power to trap fleet units inside the harbor.

There are indications that the Japanese consider Burma a flank for which they will certainly fight, but loss of which will not be considered vital. They also believe that the granting of Burmese independence is intended to spur Burma's efforts for self-defense and to allow the Japanese to get out in case the Allies capture that country.

The best information is that 650,000 Japanese troops are still in Manchuria as a bulwark against Russia and to prevent any use of Siberia by the United States. There is no evidence at present that either Russia or Japan intends to start trouble in that vital area because a policy of neutrality best serves the purposes of both countries. Rumors of recent Japanese troop movements northward and extensive reinforcements being sent into that area are unverified. It was believed, however, that there may be more than 1,000,000 Japanese troops in Manchuria, North China and Korea.

All available evidence tends to show that Japanese lines in China are thinly held and that the war there is virtually stalemated. Newspapers merely report a continuation of "mopping up" operations. In the past six months, it was reported, there were 25,000 skirmishes between Japanese and Chinese troops with a few thousand Chinese killed.

Some reports are that the Japanese have only 94,000 troops in the Philippines, which apparently is considered another flank of the main strategic areas. Even assuming there are sizable contingents in the Solomons, in Japan proper and in Burma this means there are still extensive units elsewhere. The most likely guess—and guess it is—is that the strongest and best equipped forces are in the Netherlands East Indies and Malaya, in "last ditch" positions to protect vital resources.

This situation seems to be emphasized by the relative silence of the press in these regions. Major stories there concern withdrawals of large supplies of raw materials by the Japanese, but there is no coverage of political or social developments, which contrasts sharply with the extensive publicity given native cooperation, progress in extending Japanese culture, etc., in other Japanese nominated areas.

The Japanese press also is meagerly covering the Solomons campaign, with some intimations that things are not going so well. There is no explanation, however, of the strategic importance of the operations in that area.

The Japanese assert that Japan has now acquired almost all the raw materials she needs for her war effort. Obviously the Japanese are attempting feverishly to exploit these in the fullest measure, using all that are obtainable for war production. Big weaknesses, however, are shortages of high octane gasoline and high grade lubricating oil, neither of which is obtainable in the Netherlands East Indies.

Moreover there are indications that the inevitable breakdown of virtually irreplaceable machinery in vital factories may be underway or will be soon.

secrets and their extent, therefore is unknown. But one of the major bottlenecks facing Japan's war effort is known to be machine tools. Some replacements may have been received through visits of German freighters, several of which have appeared in Japanese ports recently. They may have taken out rubber and tin, and perhaps oil. But the extent of such commerce is believed to be small. Japan's communication lines appear to have been disrupted recently but it is not known what effect this has had on the interchange of raw materials. The people themselves are receiving none of the rubber, cotton, tin or sugar which Japanese propagandists say is being withdrawn from the southern areas. There are reports that so much sugar is being transformed into industrial alcohol in Indo-China and the Philippines that the residents of these normally over-produced countries have been placed on more stringent rations than Shanghai.

Meanwhile the press has been reiterating that it will be a long and difficult war, at the same time lauding the fighting superiority of the Japanese. As an example of the current propaganda tone the press announced the withdrawal from Guadalcanal as a "great strategic success, our troops having accomplished their mission on that island."

ON BREAD DIET CIRCLEVILLE—Two more Pickaway County prisoners went on a bread and water diet Wednesday after violating orders issued by Sheriff Charles Radcliff. The pair smuggled cigarettes to two men who had assaulted the sheriff, broken jail and were recaptured.

The Chinese word for spinach is "putsai," meaning "the vegetable imported from Persia."

$4,392 REMAINS TO REACH NWF QUOTA MONDAY

$17,680 Reported at Leaders' Meeting Thursday Night

With three more days of soliciting until the final report meeting of all National War Fund Workers Monday night, $4,392 remains to be collected from Fayette County. It was revealed at a report meeting of chairmen and captains held in A. B. Murray's office at the Washington High School Thursday night. Murray is chairman of the Fayette County National War Fund committee. The Monday night meeting will be held at the high school building.

Reports made Thursday night show that $17,680 has been collected in the county since the drive began 12 days ago. Murray said that although this is a "reasonable report, it is nothing to be too optimistic over." He stressed the importance of every worker seeing all businesses or homes assigned to him before next Monday night so that a complete report might be made.

"I am confident that we will meet the quota, but we will have to work hard to keep the campaign in its two-week limit," Murray continued, pointing out that most townships have lagged so far in turning in their reports. Only two subordinate quotas—special gifts, with $684.50, well over the $5,500 quota and the Fourth ward, $88.10 over its $600 quota—have been exceeded. Cash returns, Murray pointed out, are $14,645.50 and checks contributed are $3,034.50.

"We want to make our Monday night meeting a victory meeting," Murray concluded as he stressed again the importance of increased effort on the part of each worker to meet the $22,000 quota.

Tabulated reports made Thursday show:

	Quota	Raised
Concord Tp.	$ 400	$ 301.50
Green Tp.	300	244.50
Jasper Tp.	600	316
Madison Tp.	300	195.50
Paint Tp.	500	69

BAPTIST CHURCH CANCELS MEETINGS

Postponement Necessary Due To Illness

The First Baptist Church has been forced to postpone the two weeks of evangelistic services which were scheduled to begin Sunday.

Word was received by the pastor this week that critical illness in the family of the Evangelist, Rev. Russell Kauffman, Zanesville, made it necessary for him to cancel all his engagements until the first of the year. An effort is being made to secure a later engagement with the hope of having the services held in early Spring.

Sunday marks the last Sunday of a six weeks church loyalty program in the First Baptist Church. The pastor reports good success in the campaign with revitalized interest and attendance. The campaign will be climaxed Sunday with the reception of seven new members, six of whom have come through the ordinance of baptism.

Plans Made for Game Dinner November 24 at Thursday Meeting

Marion P.-T. A. will sponsor a dressed chicken sale on November 23, it was decided at the business session of its meeting held Thursday night in the school building.

Mrs. Wayne McArthur, president, appointed Seymour Campbell to make arrangements for finding a sale room. Mrs. Seymour Campbell, Mrs. Alvin Writzel and Mrs. Ray Downs are the committee in charge of the sale.

Mrs. McArthur also introduced Mrs. William K. Thompson, new fourth and fifth grade teacher at Marion.

A game supper for the winners in the membership contest will be held November 24, it was decided. Alvin Writzel's team, with about 28 members will entertain the winning team, headed by Loren Reiff, which enrolled approximately 57 members.

The committee in charge of the dinner is Mrs. James McLean, Mrs. Alvin Writzel, Mrs. Roscoe Duff, Mrs. Seymour Campbell and Mrs. Preston Dray.

Billie Peters, of Frankfort, played several piano solos on the evening's program. Fire Chief George Hall projected several educational movies, including "The Last Will and Testament of Tom Smith," National War Fund issued film.

Committees appointed for the next meeting are: social, Mrs. Preston Dray, Mrs. Earl Lininger, Mrs. Harold Ivers and Mrs. Frank Thompson; and program, Mrs. Cecil Knisley, Mrs. Paul Shephard, and Mrs. Otis Short. Mrs. Grace Alleman will be in charge of the devotional program.

Devotions at the Thursday night meeting were conducted by Harry West. The group opened its meeting by singing "America." "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung by the group at the end of the program.

MRS. GLENNA PHILLIPS FUNERAL RITES HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. Glenna Phillips, who died Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Nellie Glascoe, were held Thursday at 2 P.M. at the Hook Funeral home, and were conducted by Rev. Frank Reynolds, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, who was assisted by Rev. B. H. Davis, who offered prayer.

Resolutions of the Second Baptist Church were read by Mrs. Minnie Locklear. Mrs. Henry Wood prepared and read the memoir.

The choir of the Second Baptist Church sang "Abide With Me," "Does Jesus Care," and "God Will Take Care of You." Mrs. Joel Bailey sang a solo, "The Hour of My Departure."

HELP TO FARMER TO REACH FOOD COAL PLANNED

Farm Conference Sets Up Plans To Meet Production Goals in 1944

W. W. Montgomery, county agent, is today at home after attending the four-day conference of Ohio Agricultural extension service workers at the King Avenue Methodist Church in Columbus.

Plans for helping the farmer to reach food production goals during 1944 were discussed by groups of the county agents attending the conference. Montgomery outlined the plans, saying that the production goals may be met through neighborhood groups, through the Farm Labor Program, through cooperative working of the farmers and by supplying technical and research material from the extension department of the college of agriculture at Ohio State University and from the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster.

Dr. Edmund des Brunner of Columbus University, yesterday asserted neighborhood leader plans in rural communities are responsible for America meeting its food production quota.

E. H. Bond, Henry County agent, revealed a survey he made showed 80 percent of a group of neighborhood leaders believed the exchange of farm machinery and labor solved at least 90 percent of the 1943 farm problems.

REVIVAL ATTENDANCE MORE THAN EXPECTED

Special Children's Service Next Friday Night

Attendance at the revival meetings held at the South Side Church of Christ now are "exceeding expectations," Rev. Edward J. Cain, pastor of the church, indicated today.

"A large number of children are attending both after-school meetings and evening services. The children will put on a special program next Friday night," Rev. Cain continued.

Friday night sermon will be "Christ Seeking the Lost." Sunday morning's sermon subject is "The Impregnable Rock" and the evening sermon is to be "Second Coming of Christ." Monday night, the sermon will be "The Blood of Christ." The revival continues all of next week, except for Saturday night. Chalk pictures illustrating hymns are made each night, Rev. Cain said.

Mrs. Robert Dixon was at the piano.

Burial was made in the Washington C. H. Cemetery. The pallbearers were Sam Evans, Walter Lovings, Chester Coble, C. H. Seabury, Carl Hargraves and B. H. Davis.

JAP PRISONERS COME TO CITY BUT STAY BRIEF

Handcuffed Foes Eat Lunch Here as Guests of Federal Officers

How the Jap dream of world conquest has been shattered was vividly depicted here Thursday afternoon, when three Japs, not flying planes to bomb the city, or coming in tanks to create terror, but wearing handcuffs and in the custody of two deputy U. S. marshals from an eastern state, halted here for a short time.

The prisoners were being moved to some undisclosed destination.

Before they were allowed to leave the automobile they were handcuffed together, the officers taking no chances of them making their escape.

The marshal's car was parked on Court Street in front of the Blackmer and Tanquary Drug Store, while the officers and their prisoners had lunch.
